Continental Philosophy
Scholarship
in honor of
Richard Owsley

Essay Competition

$500 scholarship

To be eligible the student must:

1. Be an undergraduate major in the Department of Philosophy and Religion Studies;
2. Maintain full-time enrollment at the University, unless he or she has fewer than twice the number of semester hours required to be full-time remaining in his or her degree program;
3. Enrolled as a full-time student in Philosophy or Religious Studies at the University;
4. Submit a paper on any aspect of Continental Philosophy (for example, a term paper from a philosophy class). The paper should be ten to twenty pages in length, double-spaced, with footnotes or endnotes, and be formatted in accordance with the University of Chicago Manual of Style (see any issue of the journal Environmental Ethics or go to http://www.cep.unt.edu/JournalStyle.pdf.

Deadline: March 17, 2014

Send your paper to philosophy@unt.edu

or by mail to

Scholarship Committee
Department of Philosophy and Religion Studies
1155 Union Circle #310920
University of North Texas
Denton, TX 76203–5017

or drop it off

at EESAT 225
1704 West Mulberry

About Richard Owsley
December 23, 1923 to February 16, 2003

Richard Owsley came to the University of North Texas in 1963 from Auburn University. Although he retired in 1992, he continued to work on modified service for five years, participating in the team-taught Great Books course (involving philosophy, literature, and history). Although his specialties were existentialism and phenomenology, with a special focus on Heidegger, he taught a wide variety of courses in the department as an adjunct. He organized and held his Heidegger Conference each year for more than twenty years. He became Professor Emeritus in November 2000.